Neshaminy's Carber Named All-State

Backfield Unit Scored 64 TD's

By BURTON W. SIGLIN
United Press International

A quarterback who threw seven touchdown passes in a single game and a pair of halfbacks who averaged a sizzling 6.4 yards per carry headed the Associated Press all-scholastic eleven for the second straight year and for most of recent years.

Along the fast season this four-man working crew carried the ball over the last ninth mark in yardage and points to winning nine receivers in another 22 touchdowns. The two ends grabbed from the 11 touchdowns and one of the 22 extra points.

The ends were Bill Malinchak, Neshaminy, Pa. and Jim Swan, York. The tackles were John Cappelletti, Neshaminy and Jim Woodward, Mt. Vernon, Wash. The guard positions were Howard Scales, Albany and George Garrett, Pottsville. At center, Bob Finley of Harrisburg, John Harris.

The halfbacks were Eric Crabtree, Neshaminy and Jim Grove, Gettysburg. The quarterback, Ken Stabler, Mt. Vernon, Wash. Honorable mention honors went to Carolina State and Sonny Gibbs of Tyler, Tex.

Rumors are circulating around that Neshaminy may be in trouble with the P.I.A.A. for signing Jackie Rich. The rumors insist that LaSalle's coach, Tex Flannery, is not a happy man here — and this rumor, P.I.A.A. regulations.

A check with Neshaminy High officials, 8,311 of the town which was no doubt slated to football — Bucks County's powerhouse.

Flannery is not a teacher. He is a salesman for LaSalle High, serving also as assistant athletic director. This meets P.I.A.A. requirements. But when Neshaminy High asked the P.I.A.A. officials in Harrisburg for permission to play LaSalle they received the "green light."

Congratulations to John Carber for winning first-team all-state honors. The sophomore put together an outstanding job in the backfield. Jim Ryan, Penn State's Big Ten rushing leader, has never been better. It's a great honor to have a guy of his top honored.

Our ballot carried a vote for Carber, and he may have received some support from other newspapers and coaches in this area, but how many him deals of writers and coaches in the central and western Pennsylvania never heard of him.

But don't pity sneckering of this all-state business, says John Carber. . . . You've heard from 30 officers and the time you make up your record sheet. Maybe you'll hear from 30 more.

Coming up tomorrow despite the Thanksgiving holiday: Lower Bucks County football, Section One and All-Section Two teams.

The crystal ball season is over for football and the first basketball forecast will be written for an 265 performance.

With the season's top flicks thrown out the magic number boils to 364. Hell's a long way off.

You sure the local eleven finished a fine season. Only two losses. That's not bad. I like it, with many no nets.

JOHN CARBER

Redskin Tackle Is First Area Gridder On 1st Team

By TOM JUNO
Courier-Times, Sports Writer

"I'm thrilled. It's a very great honor."

Those were the soft-spoken words of Neshaminy High's John Carber when he was informed by the Courier-Times sports department of his selection as a tackle on the first team of the 1961 United Press International All-State Football Team.

Carber is the first Lower Bucks County youth to make the first team as selected by the UPI (another Neshaminy player, Harry Stub, made the second team two seasons in a row.

Carber's name sounded tired because of every busy day. Yesterday afternoon he received the Maxwell Award from Ed Pollock of the Bulletin, of the Maxwell society dinner. His citation read: "Rose, Mr. Maxwell Award in recognition of sportsmanship and for outstanding play on the gridiron."

Later Carber was filmed on TV as part of the Big Ten award highlights show which is telecast over Channel 3 on Sunday at noon.

Then he was busy studying the questionnaire, about 30 critiques which are offering him scholarships in football.

Carber, 17, resides at "Our Acres" in Langhorne, the family home located three miles from Doylestown. Carber is a sophomore at Neshaminy High.

One To Beat

As unofficial leader of the undefeated Colorado State as the team to beat — marking the first time in the last five years that Coach Jack Gardner and his Utah club will be the team to beat.

However, the return of bespectacled Jim Boeglin, the most outstanding player in Utah history, stamps the Utes as the favorite. Boeglin, 6-4, 215 lbs. is fifth leading scorer last year, averaged 27.9 points a game.

Colorado State and Utah shared the Skyline title last year with 12 records. BYU finished third. After the big three, Montana and Denver are considered the teams most likely to succeed.

Among the independents, Air Force Academy, Montana State and Texas are considered the prompted. In the Rocky Mountain Conference most experts figure Wyoming will be the top team.

Needs More Depth

Utah's hopes of repeating as NCAA champions depend on timing on Gardner's ability to find more depth. Gardner's starting lineup Ed Rowe, Bo Crane and Joe Arbelbide returns from last year, but unless they improve their scoring ability, Utah will have to carry the offensive burden.

Coach Jim Williams utilized full-control to carry Colorado State to a share of the crown last year and OSU title hopes will be high on the same type of game this year.

Returning on the crew that limited the opposition to an average of 2.0 points a game are Jim Ward Bill Green, speedy Manny Lawrence and Jim Hunter.

BYU coach Stan Watts expects to have his team better than any other team in the league and if Watts can do this, he will be a great man, his club can go all the way.

Penn St. Leads Lambert Voting

NEW YORK (UPI) — Penn State and Syracuse are carrying their fight for the Lambert Trophy down to the wire.

The Nittany Lions retained first place in this week's balloting with 79 points out of a possible 90. Syracuse was second with 70 points. Ho played junior high football. Neshaminy and Carber been a tackle, both on offense and defense, for the Redskins for three seasons.

It was Carber's work when Neshaminy was scoring its second 11-1 season during the past two years. His work was outstanding and off times it was said that he was the fellow that was the opposing teams' backfield, he was in there so much breaking up plays.

Carber's most outstanding play was against Neshaminy's arch rival the Philadelphia City champs, Lasalle, when he was continually breaking up the Little Explosers' ball carrier and tackling them, which were key plays of the game.

Not only is Carber a footballer but he has also earned his letters in basketball and track. In the latter sport, he throws the discus, the shot and the javelin.

John Peterosiute, coach of the Neshaminy team, was elated at the selection of Carber on the first team. He said, in part, "I only wish that I knew what I would do in a very good season.

"Not only does John have the physical requirements for the position but he has good speed and is quick for his size. He is hard at all the time and during the practice sessions I don't have to look at him for we know he is doing his job.

"He finally got what he wanted and really deserves it.

"Last year Carber a hard worker in the field of athletics and the Coaches Committee that he is also a hard worker in the classroom. He is a conscientious student and is definitely college material in his school work.

Mudie MVP At Rutgers

Lower Bucks golfer last night was named most valuable player on Rutgers University's golf team for the past year.

Sam Mudie of Eddington, formerly of Bristol and Penn Charter, was chosen by his teammates for that honor.

Mudie, a senior quarterback, prepped at Penn Charter before transferring to the Rutgers campus. Mudie's father, Clarence Mudie, is the Lower Bucks County golf chairman and a former trophy for being the outstanding golfer in a poll of Bucks County sportsmen.

Members of Swedesboro and Tom Tapparo of Dover, both of N.J., were elected co-captains of the 1962 Scarlet Knights. The both 20-year-old junior backfiel

Big Names On Mat Card

A portable ring will be installed in the Edgely Fire Company Hall tonight in preparation for the opening wrestling bouts scheduled for Saturday night. The Edgely club plus promoter Roy Fabrizio presents an all-star wrestling card for first bout getting under way at 8:30 o'clock.

The Fire Company hall has been used in the past for bouts with 400 reserve seats, and second admission tickets to be sold.

Headlining the "big name" card is a tag team match between two top wrestling attractions. Tonight Bob Orton, Jr. and the "Fabulous Kangaroos — Don Leonard and Ray Gardner — tag team champions from Australia, Australia, will face the unusual combination of Johnny Valentine, the "Professional Heel" and Ed "Bearcat" Wright, presently Pennsylvania Heavyweight Champion.

Also on the card will be Bearcat Wright's Jekyll and Hyde partner, bewyweight Bob Ellis, Gene Scott, of New York, Hal Neely of Indianapolis and Mr. America Stanlee, wrestling "no holds-barred" matches for two years back and Brain Sammartino, who has been in Australia on a regular performance on the mat. Bob Orton, Jr. of Kansas City, Mo.

Tickets are now selling for $5.00 and this fine for two hours of wrestling. Ringside seats are secured at the M & P Store, Bristol and Levittown.

Lou Paone is the local agent and if past history is a guide, tonight's card is successful, he will work with Fabrizio in bringing more wrestling to the area during the winter months.

Midget Star Downs Bristol

MCKEESPORT — Gerald "Pudding" Grayson registered six touchdowns and a pair of PAT kicks as he led the Bristol, Pa. Midgets to a 36-0 victory over the Coppertown Bowl Game of the Pittsburgh Area Midget Football League a crowd of 3,000.

Grayson, 5-8 and the leading midget footballers in the nation, was unable to play last Saturday for the season to 32 by crushing Bristol's Pee Wee Bears, 32 to zero. Grayson ran for a total of 31 yds., 70, 23, 24, and 17 yards, for a total of 134 yards and finished with a grand 2,192 yards from scrimmage. He was the Coppertown MVP player and can toss a 30-yard pass.

After the game, the Bristol coaches said, "We never saw anything like this. Grayson is a great ball. No wonder the McKeesport team is unbeaten. They haven't had to pass in two seasons and no team has scored on them. It's a strong line."

The Bristol score was on a 35 yard run by Tom Rossino.

Bristol finished the Midget season undefeated.

Pacific LL Meets Tonight

A special winter meeting of the Levittown National-Pacific Little League will be held, tonight, according to an announcement by president Donald Mosher. SPORTS EDITOR

Back to the sports desk after a 22-hour pass. . . Sounds like an Army . . . Watched the Browns and Giants on television Sunday while in New York.

The Giants have always had rough defensive clubs. Tom Tatum, the Giants' quarterback estimated from the field goal season gives the New Yorkers an edge on those opposing teams in the 1962 season.

Rutgers will meet the University of Virginia for the first time since 1928 in football next season. The Scarlet will play 10 games in 1962 and Villanova is back on the schedule.

Fred Lemmy earned $1,220 for his seventh place finish in the World's International Match Game Bowling Tournament concluded in Chicago. . . George Newman, a cross country runner for Penn State, is a student at Bristol and lived most of his life in Canada.

Bob Waterfield, coach of the Los Angeles Rams, claims that Norm Van Brocklin, the Eagles' best passer playing coach this year, will play next year.

Bob Cousy and Bob Pettit, Boston Celtics and Hawks, respectively, Carolina State and Sonny Gibbs of Tyler, Tx.

HUNTING and FISHING

A few days remain for hunting most kinds of small game in Pennsylvania and this year season does not end until Dec. 2. Meanwhile the deer season hunters already are preparing for the antlered deer season, Dec. 4-16—in which two Saturdays are included.

Some of the principal regulations for the 1961 buck season follow:

To be a legal animal this season a deer must have at least one points on its antler or a forked antler at least three inches long.

A person who owns a current Pennsylvania hunting license but did not bag a deer in the bear archery season this year may use one tag anyway.

Five or more persons hunting together for the big game or in any manner cooperating in such a hunt shall be considered as a party or unit. The person or the leader of the party. The party may secure only a copy at the game commission's quarters.

Information on guns and ammunition that may legally be used during the antlered deer season and other important pointers are contained in the 1961-62 Pennsylvania Game Commission's official hunting digest which is available.

The 1961 wild turkey season ends—everywhere in Pennsylvania—at 5 p.m. Nov. 30. However, the "regular" season for other small game—rabbits, ringnecks, grouse, quail and squirrels — continues until the end of the hunting day, Dec. 2.

The white-tailed deer, official state animal of Pennsylvania, seem will be the target of many thousands of hunters.

From December 4 to 16, deer with two or more points in an antler or having an antler at least three inches long may legally be taken by shooters and archers.
