GREETINGS . . .

This football game between our schools is as traditional as turkey for Thanksgiving Day. Without high pressure planning by either school, this has become a Home Coming Game. Students and Alumni of both Bensalem and Neshaminy meet during the intermission in an informal friendliness that is much more spontaneous and friendly than any planned and rehearsed program could be.

The bright autumn sunshine, the brisk air, the enthusiastic cheers, the colorful bands, the gay greetings, the players in the traditional school colors, and the entire holiday atmosphere make an occasion long to be remembered. It is good to relive this lift of the spirit each Thanksgiving season.

The two great schools meeting in this traditional game each have a long history of sound scholarship and athletic victories behind them. Each school desires to continue to grow in both traditions and believes that such meetings as this one today with the establishment and renewal of friendships between students, alumni and patrons go a long way toward the attainment of these goals.

RUSSELL C. STRUBLE

The outcome of the game is always in doubt, no matter what the previous record of each team. May clean, hard, wide-awake play decide the game, and may everyone return to their homes for a Thanksgiving Dinner with the pleasant and contented feeling of having been part of a fine tradition of good sportsmanship and fair play by their Alma Mater.

Russel C. Struble, Principal
Bensalem Senior High School

JOHN A. STOOPS

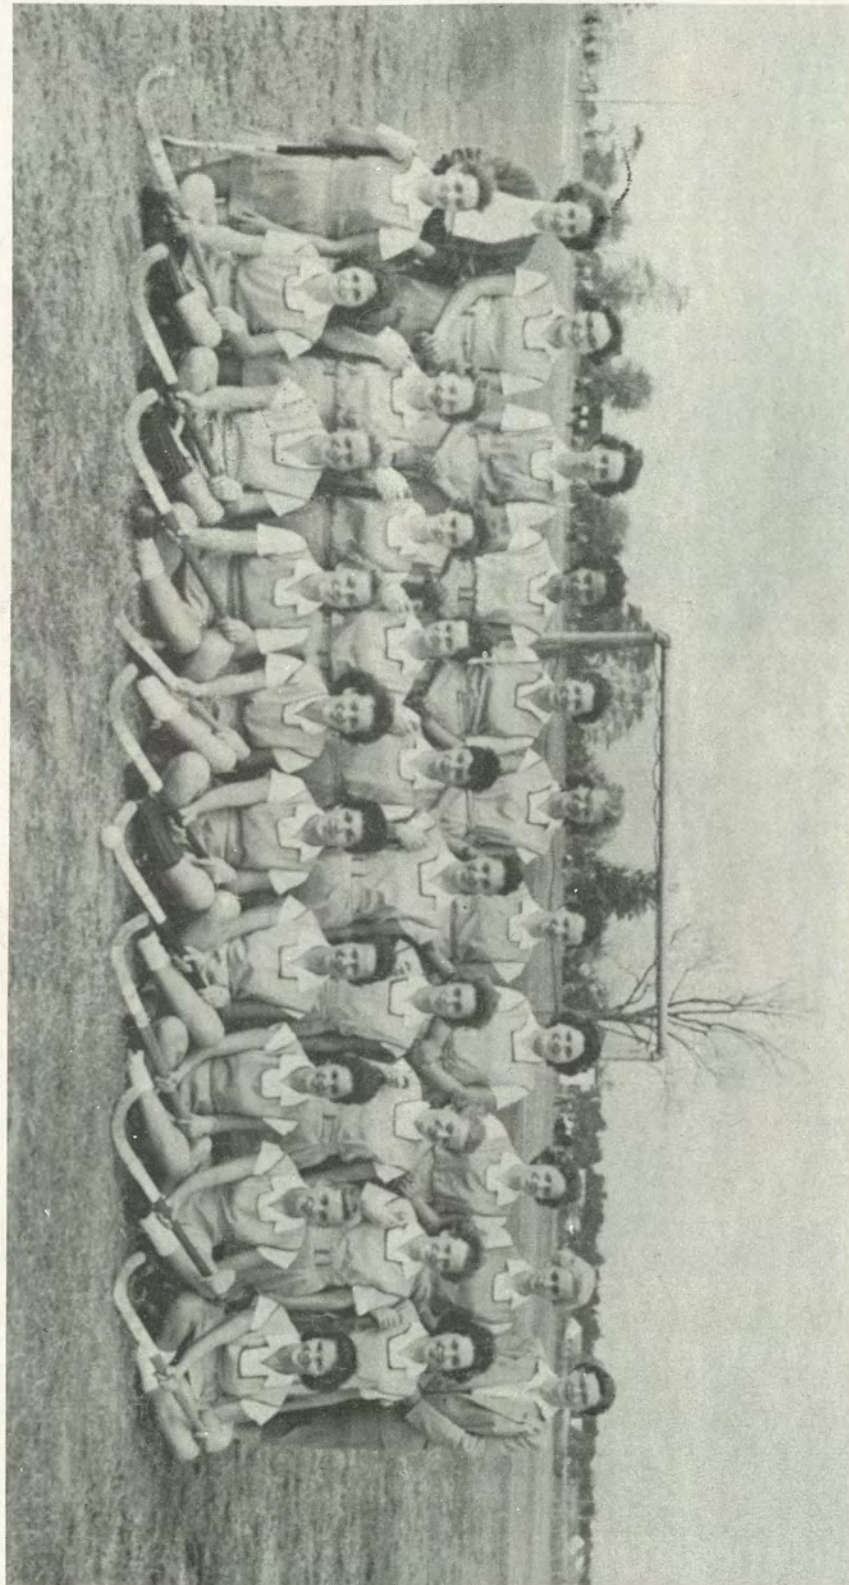

Each year students of Neshaminy High School look forward to their various athletic contests with Bensalem. Of these, none is so stirring as the annual football game which is usually held on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. In a traditional spirit the alumni of both schools assemble, not only to support their favorite team, but to pay their respects to the school from which they graduated. Therefore, the occasion has come to hold deep meaning for both schools.

The ties between the two student bodies are strong. Being neighbors, many students have friendships which cross the line which divides the districts. Last summer, Bensalem students joined with ours in an enrichment summer school. Other examples of the cooperation between the schools can be found. Characterized by friendship and good sportsmanship, the relationship between Bensalem and Neshaminy will continue to be an asset to both schools in the years ahead.

This year, for the first time, Neshaminy appears on the new football field at Bensalem High School. This new facility will be the scene of many future gatherings of this kind. We, of Neshaminy, extend to the students and faculty of Bensalem the very best wishes in their use of this new field. We hope it shall be the origin of much happiness for them and their community.

John A. Stoops, Principal
Neshaminy Senior High School
