Letter from Coach

The Coaching Staff would like to congratulate these eleven young men for their efforts in preparing for the 1992 season. They earned their selection by the performance in the classroom as well as in the weightroom.

The work habits they have displayed will surely make them successful in life. Again, congratulations and have a great year.

HE

He moves ahead where others fear to venture. Always looking forward he never looks back. "You never look behind for a leader, you look to the front."

He may be small, but his heart is big, and that's what counts. You can measure his ability, but not his heart.

His hands are on the present, his eyes are on the future, and his back is on the past. He'll only talk when he has something to say. He has pride, and that says it all, pride in what he does, pride in what he thinks.

His mind works quick, his body functions like a well-oiled machine, to hesitate is to lose. To react is to conquer.

He has desire, desire in what he does, a desire to perform, a desire to react, a desire to do well, to win.

His senses are geared to his way of life, nobody can tell him what to do. All eyes are on him when he performs, but to him only God is watching.

He has backbone, when something is to be done he doesn't look for someone else, he does it himself. He needs nobody to push him, if pushed he's liable to snap back with a crack.

He has a feeling deep inside, a feeling which is hard to describe, the feeling of a thousand butterflies running recklessly inside him. His palms will sweat, his knees might tremble ever so slightly, but this is why he's here.

He may be knocked down, but he'll get up time and again. It's not a sin to get knocked down; it's a sin to stay down.

He has pride in all, desire in everything. He's a man:

He is an athlete.

He is a football player!

A Tribute to the Football Mother

You know they say that women's work
is never really done
Well, the football mother's endless work
Revolves around her son.

Poor mom sits up and waits for him
When he comes home so late at night
There's dinner fixed hot on the stove,
She's made it all just right.

As he comes crawling through the door
His dirty clothes in hand
Says, "Mom I need this stuff all washed,
I knew you'd understand."

Not one complaint is uttered
And not one word is said,
When all her work is fin'ly done
And she rolls into bed.

There she is at every game
Sitting in the stands,
Watching for her precious boy
She once held in her hands.

If you should ask each football mom
About the things she saw,
She'd answer with a tired smile
My son is worth it all.

The Football Dad

For the Football Dad, Who's Watched his son
Grow up before his eyes;
Almost a man ... yet still a boy
Who still seeks his advice.

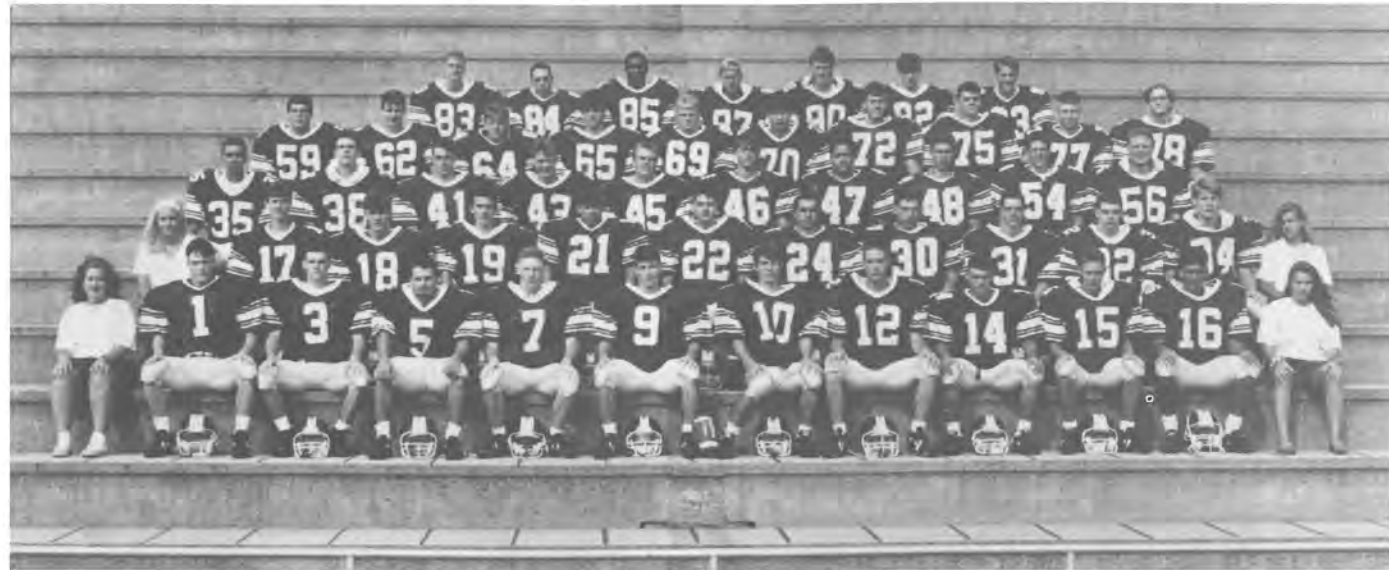

Dad makes him push to reach his goal,
Then pushes him some more...
Even though he knows he's beat
And every muscle's sore.

"You've got to push!
Give it all you've got!"
He tells him every day...
Cutting out early from work sometimes
Just to watch him play.

He can't help but brag and feel so proud,
And he gives him support that he needs.
He lets him know when he has failed
But also when he succeeds.

"Thanks, Dad!"

IF THE SHOE FITS

*Please don't curse that boy down there
He is my son you see,
He's only just a boy you know
He means the world to me.
I did not raise my son, Dear Fan
For you to call him names,
He may not be a super-star
It's just a high school game.*

*So please don't curse those boys down there,
They do the best they can,
They never tried to lose a game.
They're boys, and you're a man.
This game belongs to them, you see,
You're really just a guest,
They do not need a fan like you,
They need the very best.*

*If you have nothing nice to say,
Please leave the boys alone
And if you have no manners
Why don't you stay at home!
So please don't curse those boys down there,
Each one's his parents' son,
And win or lose or tie, you see
To us, they're number one!!!*

A NOTE OF APPRECIATION FOR OUR MERCHANTS AND BUSINESSMEN

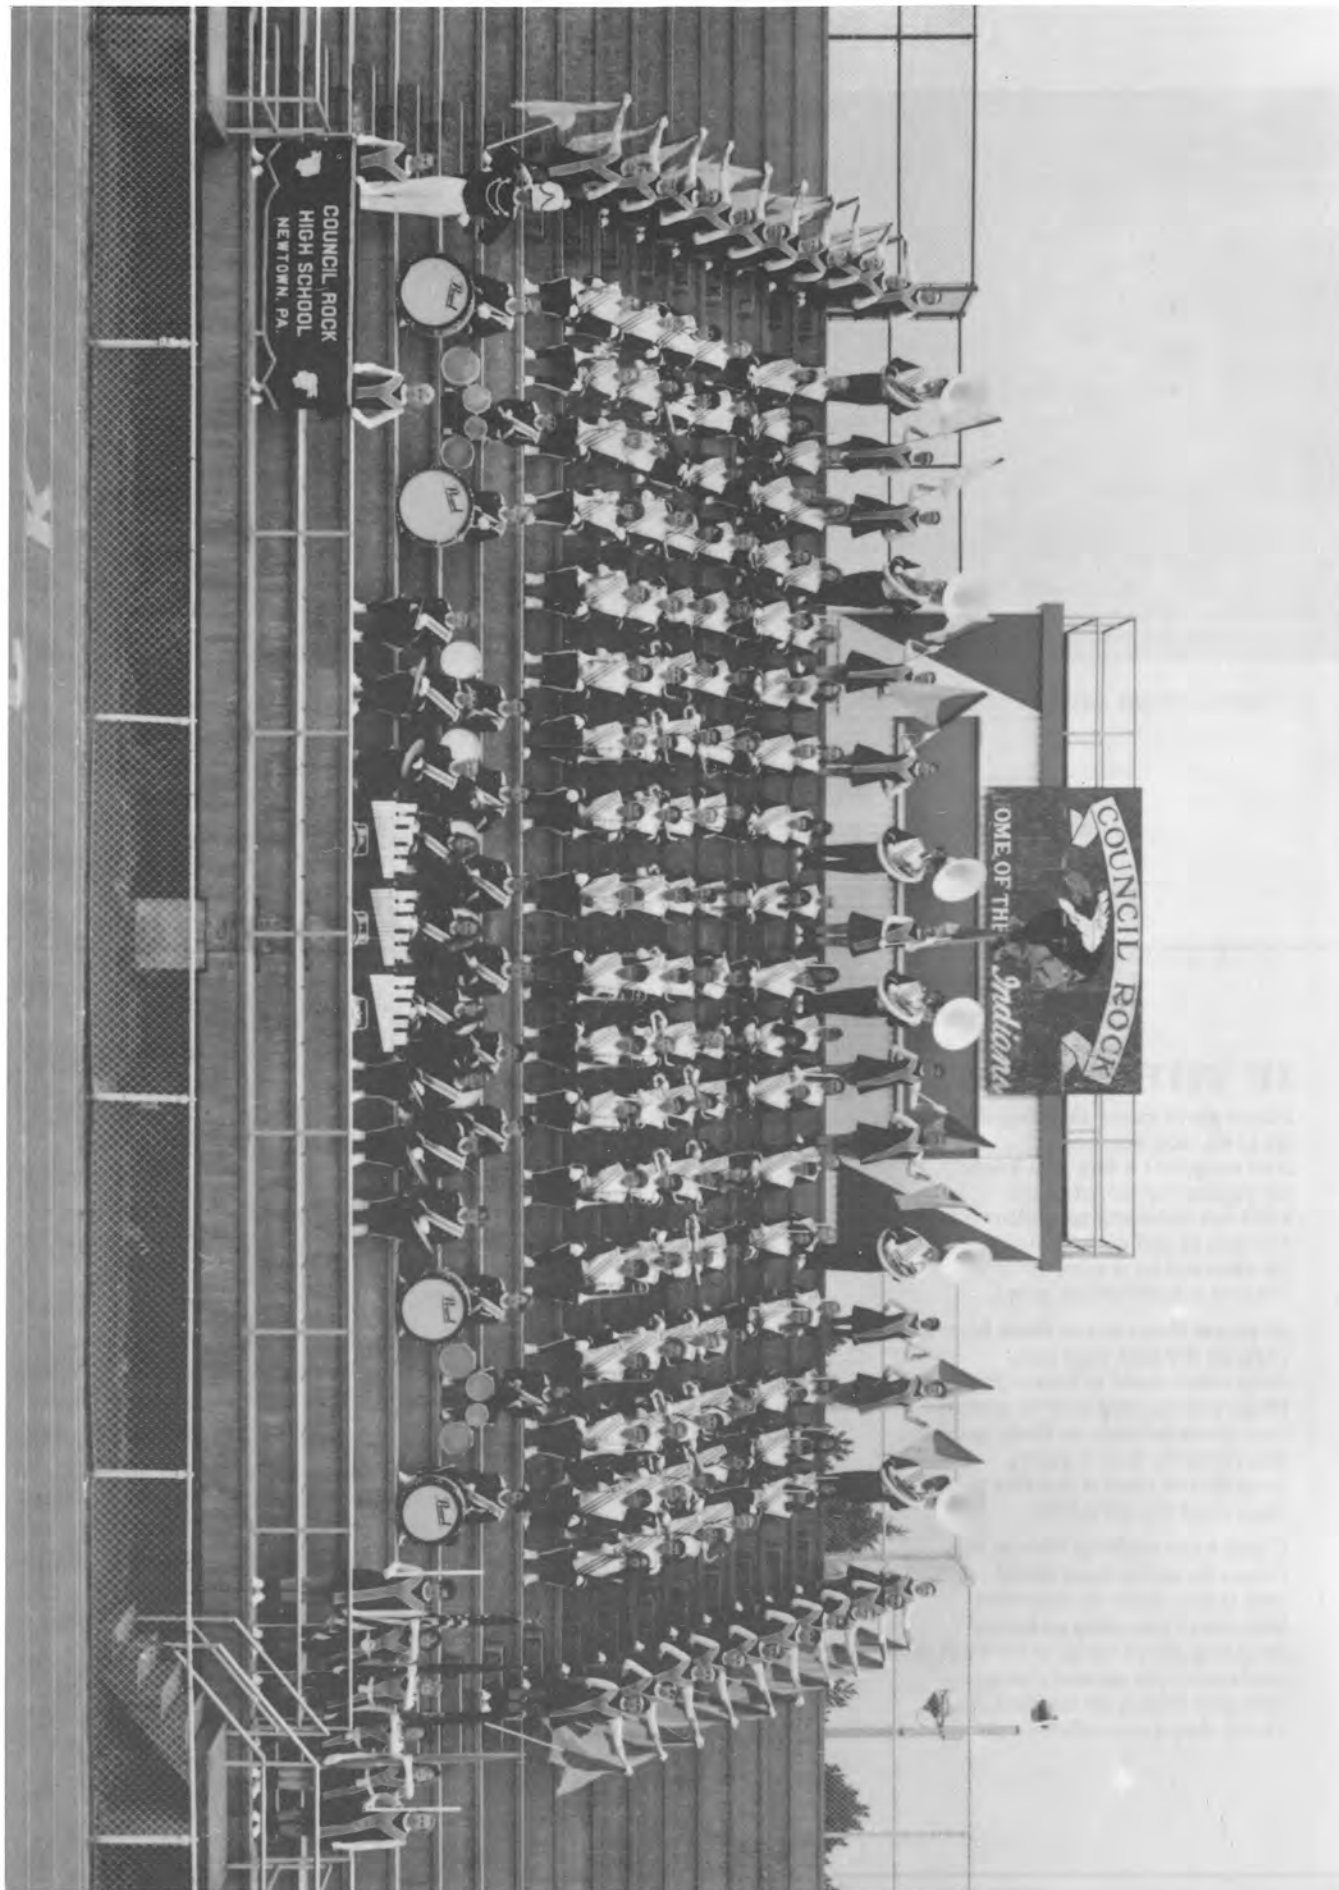

This years program would not have been possible without the generous cooperation and support of the merchants and businessmen of our community.

Finding the words to properly express our appreciation is difficult. But perhaps you can help in other more positive ways.

When you're shopping, consider patronizing the businesses listed in our program. While you're there, mention you saw their ad in the football program and express your thanks for their help in this community effort. We know they want to feel a part of the teams success.

They will appreciate it and so will we.
