One of Pennsylvania's newest but most exciting interscholastic rivalries moves into its third session tonight here at Langhorne as the undefeated clubs of Neshaminy and Easton High Schools lineup to begin where they left off last September 24, 1960. Even though both teams do not have many of the established stars of the 1960 season, both the Redskins and the Red Rovers can boast of twenty-two returnees from last year's winning units.

This fierce rivalry got its start three years ago on this field. The Redskins were sporting a 12-game winning spree dating back to the 18-0 win over the Allentown Canaries. Number 13 appeared to be in the record books until with less than four minutes remaining and a fourth-down-28-yard-situation, Aviantos pulled in a pass to give Easton a 13-7 initial victory.

Last year at Easton, the Redskins with All-State Harry Schuh got off to an early 7-0 lead, but it wasn't long until Joe Creazzo evened up the T. D.'s to make the score 7-6. The half didn't end before Schuh thrilled the capacity crowd with his 62-yard touchdown, which left the score 13-6 at halftime. Joe Creazzo scored again in the second half to send both teams home convinced they should have won the game.

Now the clubs face each other again in what will likely be a repeat performance of the two earlier battles. The Redskins sport one of its longest unbeaten records, which started immediately after its first loss to the Red Rovers in 1959. In between that 13-7 loss and last year's tie, the Skins chalked up 8 wins; and after last year's match, ten more victories including two shutouts this season over Bishop Egan (14-0) and Chester (39-0) have been added to make an impressive 18 wins, one tie, and no losses over the last two years.

Our visitors from upstate sport a similar impressive ledger. If our unofficial records are correct, the Red Rovers lost a game to Baltimore Poly immediately after their 13-7 win over the Skins, then gained 6 wins over the 1959-60 seasons before the tie last year. The Rutemen continued to win 7 more contests until being surprised by a Thanksgiving loss to their neighbor Phillipsburg. A first-game upset victory over Reading (13-0) two weeks ago completes a record of 14 wins, two losses, and a tie game since our first match here two years ago.

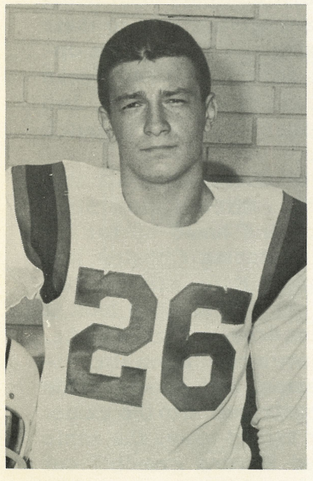

There is little doubt what all this leads up to tonight. After a slow start with Egan, the Redskins tuned up for tonight's contest by whipping Chester last week, allowing Coach Rute, his coaches and his players to get a first-hand look at all of the 41 Redskins dressed for the game.

Both schools have a reputation for outstanding football teams, with special pride in their defensive contribution to the game. Neshaminy fans can expect to see the same rough and tough Red Rovers grinding out yardage, but let us not forget that 1959 touchdown pass may be in the air again tonight. Easton fans, on the otherhand, will see the Redskins' single-wing offense in high gear tonight and Coach Petercuskie is sure to call for the arm of Eddie Kaminski to loosen up the solid Red Rover defense.

Much more could be said about this contest and these well-coached teams, but the final story can only be told
AS THE WHISTLE BLOWS!

Easton's Ernie Starniri

BASEBALL ALL-STARS

Easton's Ernie Starniri (offensive and defensive right end) and Neshaminy's Eddie Kaminski (halfback and safety man) will renew acquaintances again tonight--but this time as football opponents. Both boys played Legion baseball this summer and both Ernie and Eddie were chosen to compete in all of the American Legion All-Star games held throughout the state. Ernie, Easton Legion's first basemen, and Eddie, Langhorne Legion's shortstop were chosen from their respective league's All-Star game to compete at Harleysville, from there they were selected to play at Connie Mack Stadium in the All-East game and finally were chosen on the All-East team which played the All-West team at Monessen (near Pittsburgh).
