THE 1961 NESHAMINY REDSKINS

As The Whistle Blows

The REDSKINS of Neshaminy Senior High School return home again for another three-weekend series on the home field, this time with Lower Bucks County opponents. Tonight the winless Bristol Warriors, who are also scoreless, pay a visit to the Redskin reservation for a warmup for next week's Lower Bucks County Division A-game with the Rams of Woodrow Wilson, followed by a clash with the Pennsylvania Falcons, another Division A contest.

Looking at the schedule of remaining games, as most ardent followers have already done, one can check off the up-and-coming six games with so-so Lower Bucks elevens as victories on the scroll (pending an upset), but may think twice when seeing the name of New Jersey's Delaware Township, last year's Olympic Conference Champions.

The Redskins have almost played their 1961 season in the first month of games, as the month of September answered probably all of the questions asked of Neshaminy fans. Will the Redskins be as good without Stricker, Schuh, Currie and Company? The answer lies in the wins over tough Bishop Egan (14-0), Chester (39-0), William Allen (28-14), and the last minute loss to Easton (13-7).

Neshaminy's loss to Easton was undoubtedly the highlight of the season and even though our Redskins failed for the third time to set back the Lehigh Valley giants, all scores--and especially the play--proved the Lower Bucks County Champions worthy of stepping up competition with top-rated eastern Pennsylvania elevens.

The continued success of the Redskins can be credited to the machine-like singling of offense and the "Petercuskie-bred Savage" defense. Neshaminy has only been held scoreless once since Franks started all of this way back in 1952 (in 1957 Pennridge beat Neshaminy 13-0 in the first game of the season) and the Redskin offense was in no better form than during the first half against Allentown last week.

Only once this year did our Savage defense not hold true to its name, when in the last two minutes, the Easton Red Rovers made sizeable gains through any part of the line.

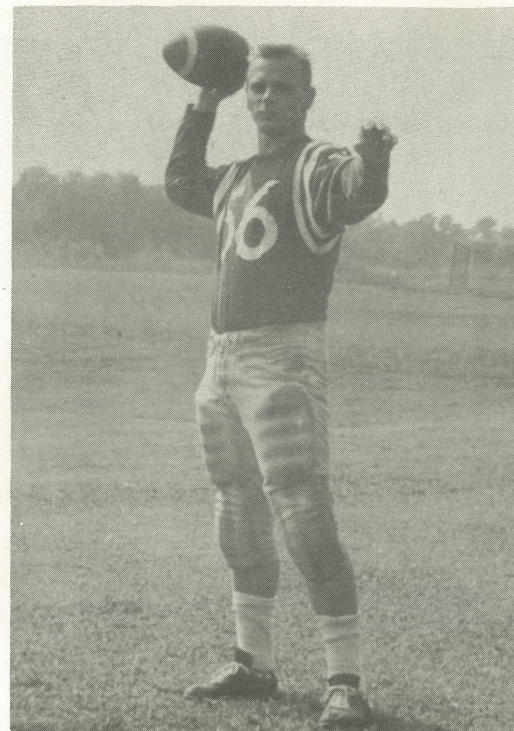

The Redskins are in good shape as is evidenced by the lack of injuries and the individual battles for key positions. Have your program handy to learn the names of many up and coming Redskins who will be getting their share of action tonight and in the future games of the 1961 season
