

Grid Loop Selections

Allen, Dieruff Place 3 Stars

Neshaminy's powerful football team dominated the East Penn Conference All-Star team selected by the five head coaches.

The Redskins placed six players on the 12-man offensive unit and four on the defensive squad. Easton won four places, while cochampion Dieruff, Allen and Bethlehem each had three.

The additional player on the offensive team is the result of a tie at quarterback between Jim Colbert of Neshaminy and Joe Saurino of Bethlehem.

Also picked to the offensive unit were ends Dave VanCott of Dieruff and Denny Auckland of Neshaminy; tackles Fred Trageman of Neshaminy and Barry Fry of Allen; guards John Troyano of Neshaminy and John Whalen of Easton; center Mike Clark of Neshaminy, and backs Ted Kaminski of Neshaminy, George Daskalakes of Dieruff and Jim Heeps of Allen.

Earning places on the defensive squad were George Jenkins of Allen and Steve Pyle of Neshaminy at end, Tom Elswick of Neshaminy and John Jones of Easton at tackle, Gordy Osterlich of Bethlehem and middle guard, Jerry Ruccio of Dieruff and Jack Dunn of Neshaminy at interior linebacker, Walt Palmer of Easton and John Saylor of Bethlehem at corner linebacker, and Joe Glory of Easton and Gerry Barr of Neshaminy at halfback.