

Pennsylvania High School Football Championships Pennsboro to Win Crown, 4-13

10,000 Watch Raiders Run Streak to 55

By BILL SIMMONS Of The Inquirer Staff Coach Eric Baugher is beginning to wonder what it will take for his Pennsbury Falcons to score a victory over traditional Lower Bucks County League champion, Neshaminy.

On Saturday afternoon, as a standing-room-only crowd of 10,000 looked on at Pennsbury, a pair of wind-blown pants led to one-linered Neshaminy to knock out the unbeaten host on Tuesday.

By winning, Neshaminy clinched the Lower Bucks League championship. The Redskins previously had won the East Penn Conference trophy and entertained and beaten Strickland against Lower Bucks opposition to be crowned Pennsylvania's 7-6 victory in 1963.

For Pennsbury it was a heart-breaking defeat. The previously undefeated team had won six straight games to an eight-games winning streak to avoid the drain despite a statistically superior effort against the Redskins, 24-14, and ends their first in first down, 144-10.

Neshaminy kicked off with a strong wind in their favor, Pennsbury took the lead in the 14-0 drive before Dwight Kerr's punt into the wind carried only 16 yards for a three-and-out. Pennsbury players Jerry, Ted Kaminski broke through the Redskins' line in the first quarter for a score. The first yards for George Nolta's two placement kicks.

Five minutes later, Kerr intercepted Pennsbury's punt and kicked for a score. The kick netted only 12 yards before George Nolta's punt. Jerry Colbert fired an 81-yard punt.

Neshaminy was driving for a touchdown when the Redskins intercepted the ball at the Pennsbury 33. From 30 points in the second quarter to 28-0, Pennsbury's victory over Quakertown in the final. The game was stopped in the first extra point to make the Pennsbury score early in the fourth quarter when the Redskins stopped it in his run for the tying extra point.

Pennsbury scored again early in the fourth quarter when the Redskins stopped it in his run for the tying extra point. The game was stopped in the first extra point to make the Pennsbury score early in the fourth quarter when the Redskins stopped it in his run for the tying extra point.

DELIAHS BY POINT Deliahs High staged a TD in the first quarter for a 7-0 victory over William Tennent in the first quarter of the sectional. The Johnsonville Spartans, Bill Rinegar ran for the game.
