Pennsbury (6-1) won the league title last year with a group of untested players, and the Falcons have the ability to do it again if they stay healthy. Running back Scott Lebrecque and linebacker Galen Snyder are the standouts.

Norristown (5-2) looks tough offensively, thanks to the return of quarterback Frank Cassano and fullback Jaquis Richet. However, Greg Rinehart (6 foot, 4 inches, 265 pounds) could make things even brighter along the line.

Dick Bedesem of Bishop Egan and Villanova fame took over at Nesha-miny (5-2) last year and led the Redskins to their best season in years. Look for senior Tim Ford to be a pleasant surprise at quarterback.
