

Rating the Teams

Neshaminy (who else?) is No. 1 again in The Inquirer's all-area high school football poll. The Redskins haven't been anything but No. 1 all season. Pennsbury moves up to No. 2, thanks to Willingboro Kennedy's 32-7 defeat by unheralded Pennsauken. The week's biggest gainer, though, is surprising Nether Providence, which jumped from 23d all the way to 6th after a 20-7 victory over strong Marple-Newton.

Neshaminy Is No. 1 ... Still

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1. Neshaminy (6-0) | 11. Audubon (4-0) |
| 2. Pennsbury (5-1) | 12. Paul VI (4-0) |
| 3. Haverford School (4-0) | 13. Pottstown (5-1) |
| 4. Haverford High (4-0) | 14. Willingboro Kennedy (3-1) |
| 5. LaSalle (4-0) | 15. Plym.-Whitemarsh (4-1) |
| 6. Nether Providence (5-0) | 16. Cardinal O'Hara (3-1) |
| 7. Upper Merion (4-0) | 17. Bishop Kenrick (4-1) |
| 8. Central (3-0) | 18. Council Rock (4-1) |
| 9. Central Bucks West (5-0) | 19. Hatboro-Horsham (6-0) |
| 10. St. Joe's Prep (4-1) | 20. Coatesville (4-0) |