SENIOR RECOGNITION DAY

COMMITMENT TO EXCELLENCE

Kathleen L. Fitton
Assistant Superintendent for Administration

Welcome to Senior Recognition Day

Congratulations to the Seniors of Pennsbury and Neshaminy for a fine year of football. For some of you, it will be the last time you compete in organized football in any fashion. So make sure that you give it all you have on every play.

In Pennsbury, we are committed to excellence both in the classroom and on the playing field and look forward to a competitive, spirited game today. We recognize the dedication and hard work exhibited by the team members and we salute you. Qualities necessary for successful athletes are those same qualities required for success in life.

Falcon Field is brimming with excitement this afternoon as we look forward to a lively competition. Thank you for joining us and enjoy the game. ■

"COMMITMENT TO EXCELLENCE"

Be the best that you can be

Robert J. Buckanavage
Director of Athletics & Community Services
Supervisor of Health & Physical Education

As we begin our 43rd year, the Pennsbury interscholastic program continues to provide our young men and women with an opportunity to be the best that they can be in sports!

We are extremely proud of the rich tradition of success that our athletic teams have established over the years. Our student-athletes have distinguished themselves well in the athletic arena and in their academic pursuits. Many of our student-athletes have been able to further their education because of these achievements.

Our secondary school athletic facilities and equipment serve as an example of the continued support from the community, Board of School Directors and administration in our pursuit of excellence.

We are grateful to all of our coaches who have dedicated themselves to providing a comprehensive interscholastic athletic program at William Penn, Pennwood, Charles Boehm and Medill Bair, culminating in 25 varsity sports for boys and girls at Pennsbury High School.

HE

He moves ahead where others fear to venture. Always looking forward he never looks back. "You never look behind for a leader, you look to the front."

He may be small, but his heart is big, and that's what counts. You can measure his ability, but not his heart.

His hands are on the present, his eyes are on the future, and his back is on the past. He'll only talk when he has something to say. He has pride, and that says it all, pride in what he does, pride in what he thinks.

His mind works quick, his body functions like a well-oiled machine, to hesitate is to lose. To react is to conquer.

He has desire, desire in what he does, a desire to perform, a desire to react, a desire to do well, to win.

His senses are geared to his way of life, nobody can tell him what to do. All eyes are on him when he performs, but to him only God is watching.

He has backbone, when something is to be done he doesn't look for someone else, he does it himself. He needs nobody to push him, if pushed he's liable to snap back with a crack.

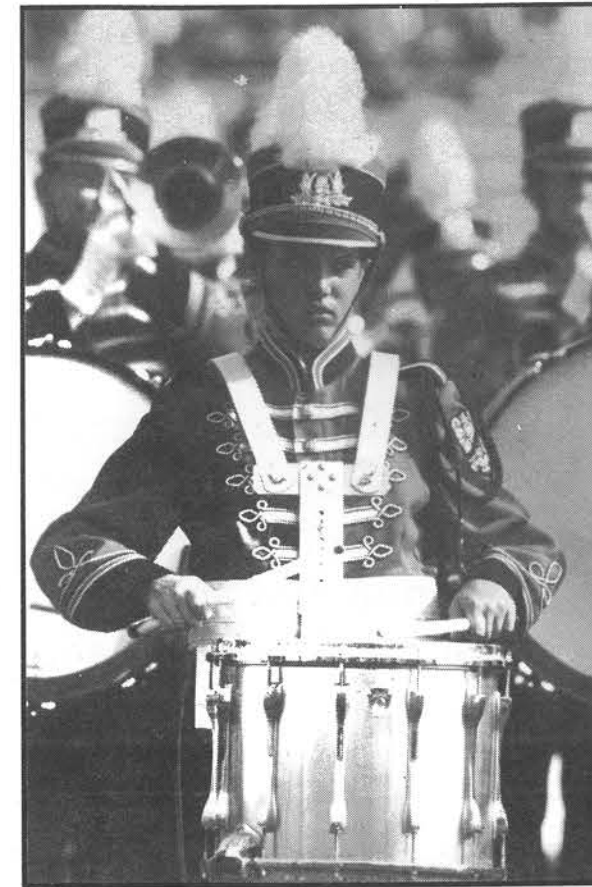

He has a feeling deep inside, a feeling which is hard to describe, the feeling of a thousand butterflies running recklessly inside him. His palms will sweat, his knees might tremble ever so slightly, but this is why he's here.

He may be knocked down, but he'll get up time and again. It's not a sin to get knocked down; it's a sin to stay down.

He has pride in all, desire in everything. He's a man:

He is an athlete.

He is a football player!
