

The Bucks County conferences have reorganized slightly, with Neshaminy divided into Maple Point and Langhorne to expand the Lower Bucks Conference by one school. The former Lower Bucks-Section II schools now form the Bicentennial Conference.