

TIGHT TITLE RACES TO BE DECIDED IN SCHOOLBOY PLAY

Bristol and Bulldogs Settle District Supremacy
Thursday

LITTLE FOUR AT STAKE

Langhorne Can Create Small School Tie With Upset Win

By Jack Gill

Everything rides on the impending Morrisville-Bristol championship clash at Morrisville this Thanksgiving morning. The winner of the contest will be adjudged Lower Bucks County champions.

And in the well-balanced "Little Four" Conference, the eyes of Bensalem are turned toward Langhorne pulling an upset triumph over powerful Newtown. Such a trick would create a deadlock for the small school crown.

The fellows who like to wager coin on the outcome of the Bulldog-Bunny scrap are holding their change this year. The evenness of the two teams is so great that no favorite is being picked by either side. Both teams pack explosive offensive dynamite.

Army Capriotti took the sectional individual scoring lead away from Morrisville's great battering halfback, "Bud" McAllister, with his 25-point show against Bridgeport Saturday. The Blue and Gold back is now 17 points behind the Bristol terror, and it hardly seems likely that he will catch "Cap" in the remaining game.

Individual Scoring

(10 Points or More)

Capriotti, Bristol	72
McAllister, Morrisville	55
Wallace, Morrisville	31
Napoli, Fallsington	30
Dafter, Newtown	26
Mossbrook, Bensalem	25
Patterson, Bensalem	25

Galzerano, Bristol	24
Ashton, Bensalem	24
Pidcock, Newtown	18
Rosser, Bristol	15
Wilcox, Morrisville	15
Mansmann, Fallsington	15
Monti, Fallsington	14
Maggi, Bristol	12
Ejdy, Bensalem	12
DiAngelo, Bristol	12
Hutchinson, Morrisville	12

—Conference Standings— Bi-County Big Four

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pts.
Bristol	2	0	0	4
Morrisville	2	0	0	4
Conshohocken	0	2	0	0
Bridgeport	0	2	0	0

Lower Bucks Little Four

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pts.
Newtown	2	0	0	4
Bensalem	2	1	0	4
Fallsington	1	2	0	2
Langhorne	0	2	0	0

Animal "Shelter" Is To Close After Jan. 1st

Continued From Page One

continuance of the shelter. Other unfortunate contributors to