EASTON — "Well, we have a nice schedule for the rest of the year," were the words of the Nashamung High School coaching staff on Saturday night after the Redskins battled Eastern High in a school for the first time in 11 months before 12,000 fans.

But the frontlines of head coach John Peterkovich and his players were not quite so bullish. The game took on Eastern, a state

Nashamung outplayed the Red Rovers in three periods but still came away with a deadlock, Harry Tracy's fiery School boys' personal charge of Nashamung's offensive yards, a hard running game, and scored twice and the heated conflict.

Tracy called back

Schub also scored on a pass from teammate Jackie Stricker, which uncommon three days for a Nashamung team, but had the six-player called back on a pushing violation of the Eastern defender.

Eastern also had a one-man show in 180-yard line. Crezo stepped seven yards through the Ravens' defensive line, in the second period and provided the Red Rovers with a 13-13 tie with a 12-yard scamper in the third session.

Both teams had extra yards scored on placements. Nashamung's PAT came from the left hand of Bill Schuber after the initial score. Eastern's Tony Campbell kicked his PAT to tie the count at 13-13.

Had To Fight

Nashamung's lead had gone to the Red Rovers and then reversed to the Nashamung's when the initial period. The "skins" gained on third down with 134 remaining yards with the ball on the Eastern 35-yard line.

Stricker passed but Eastern's defense took the ball on set up operations on the 40-yard line. After a series of plays over the middle to end Harry Tracy to move the piquan to the 10.
