Falcons Ask Army, Navy To Settle Military Title With Grid Series

By HARRY GAYMON

CHICAGO — NCA — It is inconceivable that the Air Force Academy does not play either Army or Navy football this fall. The Air Force wants a round robin arrangement to decide the military school championship each autumn, but that far has been able to arrange to meet Army and Navy only in alternate years. Army is to be engaged at Soldier Field in Chicago. Navy does not get into the act until 1966, when the Midshipmen travel to Colorado Springs.

After interlocking fields for home games for several years, the Air Force is now set to compete with Army and Navy in every year. You have to hand it to the Falcons.

Four Games On Tap Locally For Today

Grid action continues at an unusually early hour in Lower Bucks county schools today. Two contests were scheduled this afternoon while two more follow the weekend ball tonight.

The Army and Navy and the Air Force Academy Athletic Association all can use the money, so what are they waiting for when they could have another spectacle equating, if not surpassing, the perennial Army-Navy game?

The steady drive by the visitors seemed to take effect in the second half of Neshaminy. After taking the kickoff, the Redskins took two consecutive punts and then Ferguson, who played an outstanding game, kicked a field goal.

The Redskins took the next nine possessions. Friends School's 1-10 play, N. J. Meyer, N. J. Yarch, N. J. Moran, N. J. Yarch, N. J. Mather, N. J. S. 4, Roster, N. J. in Marstonia. N. Time - 12:30.
