Neshaminy Bows In Final Minute, 13-7

OUT OF Ben's Bullpen

Two more drivers who have been assured starting berths in the Oct. 8th running of the 100-mile National open championship for sportsman - modified stock cars at Langhorne Speed way are Bob Mathias, of Export, N.J., and Tony Mordino, of Westbury, Conn.

If Temple University's football team shows progress this season, then watch out for the Owls next year . . . There's only one senior — center John McShane — on the first team . . . Former Neshaminy High standout Tom Stricker is one of the 16 starting underclassmen . . .

Weekly stock car racing at Old Bridge has ended, but director Bob Streeter is planning three special events for next month . . . The Bell Racing Club will conduct its finale for the season tonight at Hatfield speedway, a 25-lap feature. . . .

Liberty Bowl officials were very pleased to learn that West Point brass have modified their bowl policy. . . . This might put the Cadets in line for the Liberty Bowl, played in Philadelphia Stadium in mid-December, if they upset Penn State . . . One national magazine predicts it will be Penn State and Florida meeting in the third annual Liberty Bowl.

Garden State Park officials are expecting Bill Hartack to show up for the fall meeting, despite his temporary switch from horse racing to water skiing down Florida way. . . . Hartack is taking a rest from horse racing by training for some long distance water ski events . . . Johnny Sellers, the current leader in the riding championship, is also expected at Garden State next month . . .

Two Lower Bucks County boys are playing with the Rutgers varsity soccer team. . . . Ned Hellings, former Delhass athlete, scored the club's shutout last year, is returning as goalie . . . Also on the squad is S. Ridgeway Goodwin, of Yardley . . . Hellings has been sidelined for awhile by a knee injury. . . .

Irv Cross and Ted Dean are the usual kickoff returners for the Eagles, but Cross was sidelined last week against Cleveland and Eagle coach Nick Skorich inserted Tim Brown in his place. . . . All Brown did, as you know, was race off 103 yards with the opening kickoff . . .

Skorich took boos on his great "strategy" but had to keep smiling all the time. . . .

On Sept. 27 or 28, The Cincinnati Reds will fly from Chicago to Pittsburgh for their final series of the year against the Pirates. . . . What happens if that plane is hi-jacked to Havana? . . . With the World Series almost here our government certainly would have to take some immediate action to get the Reds, out of Cuba. . . .

We're just joshing here, but can you really imagine the headlines in Fidel Castro's newspapers if the Reds beat the Yankees in the World Series? . . . They'll have a field day . . .

I read over the Charles Finley report to Ford Frick on the "poison pen" incident and can only say that a guy who would go to so much time, trouble and expense (sending the full report to 1700 sports editors) must be at least serious.

After reading it through, I get the impression that maybe Finley has been somewhat "misunderstood" by the press, but at the same time, it's obvious that he's contributed to this situation by his questionable actions at certain times.

8,000 Fans See Easton Break 7-7 Stalemate

By TOM JUNO
Courier-Times Sports Writer

It now appears as if Neshaminy High can beat any team except Easton.

The powerful Redskins had their third shot at the Red Rovers last night and, after taking a first quarter lead, flunked out in the second and final sessions to let Easton ride home with a 13-7 triumph.

The largest crowd to ever witness a Lower Bucks gridiron battle, estimated at 8,000, at Neshaminy field saw Easton gain its second win over Neshaminy, the other game ending in a deadlock. Easton's triumph in 1959 was by the same score and last year's tilt ended 13-13.

The defeat brought a halt to a Neshaminy streak which had extended to 17 wins and a tie since the Skins were last beaten. When Easton beat Neshaminy two seasons ago, the Redskins were riding the crest of a 13 straight triumphs and a tie.

Easton won the game by doing all its scoring with 32 seconds remaining. Only 15 seconds remained before the half when Tony Delvas rammed over for the touchdown and only 36 seconds were left when Dom Cappellano booted the point after to provide the winning touchdown. After the first touchdown, Sal Sortino place-kicked the extra point which knotted the game, 7-7.

It was the battering Ed Kaminski who had the Redskins in the lead with a first-period touchdown from the three-yard-line to climax a drive which had featured boosted the conversion and, like in 1959, Neshaminy was ahead.

The first period was Neshaminy's best offensively as it chalked up 59 yards on the ground. The final session was the poorest when it made 17 yards on the turf. In between was a total of 32 in the second and third sessions to give it 106 yards for the game.

Both Get 13 First

Both teams had 13 first downs and both had the same number of net yards, Easton gaining 159 yards on the ground and its only completed pass netted seven yards for its 166.

The Neshaminy passing was nil, as Coach Ed Kaminski went into the air and three times his aerials were intercepted - one leading to the Easton touchdown. Easton threw five times, one being intercepted by Kaminski, one being completed for seven yards and the other three grounded.

The winning touchdown was made through the Neshaminy line which seemed to weaken in the final session as the visitors ate up a total of 72 yards on the drive. The usual concrete wall of the Redskins was conspicuously absent.

Neshaminy team crumbled at the on slaught of the Easton backs. The invaders trapped the Neshaminy linemen time and time against on plays through the middle.

Easton Drives 72 Yds.

Easton started its final drive from its own 28, all on line plays. Cappellano gained nine, and Mike Weaver and Sortino 10 each. Cappellano added 14. After Weaver lost a yard, Miller made 10 and Cappellano 14 to put the ball on the eight with 1:26 left to play. Miller picked up three off left tackle Sortino made another the same side and then Cappellano went to the right to chalk off the remaining four. Sortino missed the extra point try.

The Rovers were alert in paving the way for their first score as the seconds were ticking away the half. Neshaminy had the ball near midfield when Kaminski attempted a long pass. But Jim Miller leaped in front of the would-be receiver and caught the ball on his 40. He ran to the Neshaminy 12 before being spilled by passer Kaminski.

The clock showed less than a minute when Sortino made three yards. A fumble was recovered by Cappellano, the ball resting on the nine. Relvas smashed through the line for seven yards putting the pigskin on the two as 17 seconds remained. Then Relvas went over on a quarterback sneak for the touchdown.

The Neshaminy touchdown came in the first session. The march started on the Neshaminy 47. Kaminski made nine and a pass was grounded. Bruce Evans made a first with a three-yard gain and on the next play knocked off 12 yards. Kaminski carried on three straight plays for a first on the 18. Kaminski, twice, and Evans, once, carried through the line and the ball was on the eight. On two plays, Kaminski went over with 39 seconds remaining in the quarter.

Game Notes:

Neshaminy vs. Easton Outdraws Phils-Bucs

By BEN BOROWSKY
Courier-Times Sports Editor

That was quite a crowd at Neshaminy High's Playwicki Field last night. Official estimates indicate of 8,000 dwarfed the 4,687 who paid their way into Connie Mack Stadium to see the Pirates beat the Phillies again.

An exact figure wasn't available last night, but we were informed that between 7,500 and 8,000 tickets were sold. We are the minimum figure and added about 500 "freebees" to get the 8,000 figure.

It certainly was the largest crowd ever to witness a Lower Bucks high school sporting event, and accounted for one of Lower Bucks County's biggest traffic jams. The Middletown Township police did a good job, but many Neshaminy fans didn't have the patience they might have exhibited had the Redskins won.

Chris Poff, Neshaminy wrestling coach, was walking up and down in the sideline. We wondered why. He's the divot man. Whenever a big chunk of grass was unearthed by one of the athletes, Chris would replace it. He must be a golfer at heart.

Neshaminy threw four passes and didn't complete any and Easton connected on one of five tries for a seven yard gain. After that passing exhibition, both coaches might be in favor of legislation to "outlaw the forward pass."

Run into Chick D'Angelo, Bristol Township streets or sewer and basketball coach. He informs us that a new game he's invented, called "D-Basketball", will be coming out early in October. Chick insists you can play only high school age or pro game beforehand and figure out who'll win and how many points each individual will score. If it works, this may replace the crystal ball.

The bands of both schools did an excellent job at the intermission.

If you like red and white, it was indeed a colorful night. The Red Rovers of Easton were outfitted in red uniforms with white trimmings while Neshaminy's Redskins wore white uniforms with red numerals.

Thirteen must be a magic number for Easton. That's how many points it's scored against Neshaminy in each of three straight meetings. Easton won, 13-7, in 1959 at Neshaminy. Last year's result at Easton was a 13-13 deadlock, and last night Easton won again, 13-7.

It was an exciting game to watch. Both teams made some mistakes, but it was not a sloppy affair. Easton just got hot at the end and drove for the winning TD.

Abington High Registers 33-6 Victory Over Wilson

By ED CONRAD
Courier-Times Sports Writer

Backfield speed and mobility paid huge dividends for the second straight weekend for Abington High against a Bristol Township foe.

The Ghosts, a Suburban League title threat, outdistanced Woodrow Wilson High 33-6, before some 2,500 fans at Abington last night. It was their third straight victory while Wilson sank to its second straight setback.

Chief Abington trouble-maker was halfback Lou Lee, heralded locally for his performance against Delhass last Saturday. He racked up the first pair of Ghost TDs and had another called in the second quarter.

Touchdown Every Period

The victors crossed paydirt the first time they had possession, pushed across a pair of second period touchdowns, then added one each in both the third and fourth quarters.

Lou Sorrentino's Golden Rams, blanked in their opener against Upper Merion, broke their season-al scoring ice with a six-pointer after Abington had garnered its 20th point.

The Wilson touchdown came with 6:46 remaining when quarterback John Keener sneaked across from two yards away on a fourth down situation to climax a 15 play series covering 80 yards.

Abington had wasted little time getting its scoring show on the road against the Rams. Wilson had moved the pigskin 48 yards in 13 plays following the opening kickoff but its attack petered out at the 22.

The Ghosts then paraded downfield, notching four straight first downs at one clip in the seven-play drive. Fullback Fred Beshore picked up the fourth on an 11-yard haul to the nine, and Mr. Lee took over.

Lee, a 6-0 199-pound junior, zigzagged the final distance. And when Ken Judd booted the PAT, it was 7-0 and the handwriting was already on the Wilson wall.

Abington next gained possession on the Wilson 36 when center Frank Gibbons pilfered a Golden Ram aerial. Eight plays later, linking the first-half quarters, Lee again generated his point-producing talent with an 11-yard scamper and the second TD.

Additional Counters

Abington registered its third TD when Marty Eichelberger flipped a 25-yard pass to halfback Jay Staub with 20 seconds left in the half. The Ghosts had gotten the ball only 25 seconds earlier when Keener's punt advanced the pigskin only six yards.

Halfback Bill Holt annexed the fourth tally with a 30-yard lap-top midway through the third quarter.

And if one-ball-totin' Lee wasn't enough, his sophomore brother, Jim, tore in fast to recover a Wilson fumble in the end zone in the final quarter to stretch the Abington count to 33.

Strange Happenings

Wilson's offensive team, even though outmanned in points and yardage throughout the evening, pulled an unusual play in the last quarter.

Keener heaved a pass which an Abington defender blocked. The ball bounced into the air at the line of scrimmage and Keener made a desperate grab. He was spilled for a gain at the receiver of his own aerial.

Four Grid Games Today

Football activity in Lower Bucks, a lot on the light side last night, steps up the pace today with four contests on the agenda. One is a night game.

Bensalem invades Tennent, Burlington (N.J.) visits Bristol and Morrisville opens its season by traveling to Pennsbury in the lineup of daylight tilts.

The lone night contest is slated at Council Rock where Delhass squares off with the Indians.

The Bristol-Burlington game is a continuation of the "Little Brown Jug" series which dates back to 19-2. The Bulldogs will be shooting for their ninth victory.

Falcons Win Soccer Tilt

Pennsbury High, defending champs of the Lower Bucks County Soccer League, edged New Hope, 2-1, yesterday in a non-league contest at the Falcons' field.

Pennsbury's first tally was scored by Bruce DeMinco in the first quarter after a corner kick by Jim Lloyd. The Falcons added a second point in the final stanza on a boot by Elwood Edwards.

New Hope's sole score was notched by Tom Hosbach on a penalty kick in the last quarter.

PENNSBURY (2) — Hammond, G; Ketchmar, RF; Pettit, LF; Fisher, RH; Sociolosiak, CH; Dolgewicz, LH; Hetherington, RW; Edwards, IR; McGoldrick, IL; Page, LW; Hohman, CF. Subs: Delmonico, Rhodes, Bolton, Rieck, Philhower, Bender.

Egan Harriers Upset Tennent High, 27-28

Three Lower Bucks cross country track meets yesterday were highlighted by the scintillating performance of Bruce Egan as he knocked off the William Tennent harriers 27-28 in a meet at Tennent.

A surprise and a show of strength bolstered the hopes of two counters of the LBCL as Bensalem eked past Pennsbury 26-29 and Morrisville squashed Woodrow Wilson 19-36.

Tennent's Luff Breaks Record

Perennial powerhouse Tennent, again labeled as the "team to beat" in LBCL cross country, had to take a back seat to Egan's depth. Taking the top spot honors, was Frank Luff - top Tennent runner, who knocked six seconds off the course record of 12:15 for the 2.2 mile.

Dunning the Eagle's victory cry was ace Tracy's third place time. Tracy appeared to be heading for a 50-yard win over Luff and a sparkling record breaking effort when he was discovered he had taken a wrong turn about 150 yards from the finish line. While he was going back and re-running the distance, Tennent's Luff and Leo Hunt completed the course.

In a JV meet, the Eagles beat Tennent 25 - 30 as Egan's George Stewart turned in a fine 12:39 first place time.

Egan - Tennent results: 1. Luff, T; 2. Hunt, T; 3. Tracby, E; 4. French, E; 5. Saborsky, E; 6. Murphy, E; 7. Grammont, E; 8. Merkle, T; 9. Davidson, E; 10. Smegis, T. Time - 12:09.

Bensalem Wins

Bensalem took a long stride to success under new coach Bob Rhett, as they outpaced and 28 - 29 win over Pennsbury on the 2.3 mile course at Pennsbury.

This was the league opener for both squads and the first engagement of the season for the Owls while the Falcons defeat evened their season log at 1 - 1; their win being over Woodrow Wilson last week.

Bensalem - Pennsbury results: 1. Woodrow Wilson, B; 2. Bob Hughes, B; 4. Poglaicetti, B; 5. Pone, B; 6. Dale, P; 7. Berry, B; 8. Charnes, P; 9. Mancuso, B; 10. Kaufelds, B. Time 13:43.

Wilson Jarred

Woodrow Wilson, having their team hopes shattered in smothering second meet of the young season and initial clash in league play, to Morrisville 19 - 36 on Wilson's 2.2 mile course.

Morrisville displayed awesome form balance in smothering Wilson by capturing first, second, fourth, fifth and seventh places. Bob Bradbury was tied to the finish by Bert Stromberg and Chip Johnson in 11:47.

Morrisville - Wilson results: 1. Stromberg and Johnson, M; 3. Beerhalter, W; 4. Roackaller, M; 5. Gregory, M; 6. Gilbert, W; 7. Cunningham, M; 8. Frye, M; 9. Nagy, M; 10. Buck, W. Time - 11:47.

Pop Warner Games Saturday

Three games are on tap in the 110 pound Pop Warner midget football league tomorrow at the Stadium.

The opening ceremonies will be featured by Walter Richardson throwing out the first ball.

In the first game, Morrisville will play the Fairless Hills Lightning bolts - second, Kwanis against the AmVets; third, Meenan Oilers versus the Reedman Wildcats.
